

USB BEATS USA BUSINESS SCHOOLS

A bird's eye view of Stellenbosch University's Bellville Park campus which houses the University of Stellenbosch Business School (USB). A team of three black MBA students of the USB came first in the National Black MBA Association Case Competition (NBMBAA) in the United States. The competition is part of the NBMBAA convention, one of the largest and most influential events on the USA business calendar. The USB is the only business school outside the USA which is invited to participate in the annual competition. The winning trio: Pambili Booï, Fortune Ngwenya and Kagisho Mahura.
